Course Requirements

Attendance and participation in seminar (10%); two short (2-3 page) response/analysis papers, due Tuesday, November 4 and Tuesday, November 25 (15% each); take home final exam, due Tuesday, December 16 (60%); optionally, students may choose to write a final paper (approximately 10–15 pages) in place of the take home final, on a topic to be discussed in advance with the instructor. Exams and papers are due, as an attachment, via the “Assignments” tool on eCommons (preferably in PDF, MSWord, RTF, L^AT_EX, or plain text; if you prefer another format, please let me know).

Texts

G.W.F. Hegel, The Encyclopaedia Logic, tr. T.F. Geraets, W.A. Suchting, and H.S. Harris (Hackett) (ISBN: 0872200701).

The above text should be available at the Literary Guillotine and will be placed on reserve at McHenry.

Also on reserve at McHenry will be the longer Science of Logic and the other two parts of the Encyclopedia (the Philosophy of Nature and the Philosophy of Spirit). Be warned that the translations of these latter works are substandard (even by the low standards of philosophy translation).

Readings

Thursday, October 2: no required reading, first class; but recommended: Translators' Introduction (by Geraets and Harris), pp. xiii–xxxi, and Suchting's objections, pp. xxxii–xlvi (this is very entertaining, as well as informative — at least, if you're as easily entertained as I am).

Tuesday, October 7: Translators' Preface, pp. vii–ix; start of the Preliminary Conception (§§19–25), without Additions (Zusätze), pp. 45–65.

Thursday, October 9: no class due to the first day of Sukkot.

Tuesday, October 14: More Precise Conception and Division of the Logic (§§79–83), pp. 125–34.

Thursday, October 16: no class due to Shemini Atzeret.

The Doctrine of Being

Monday, October 20: Intro. and Being (§§84–8), pp. 135–45. At the usual time (2pm) in Humanities 1, room 400. This class will be videotaped, for those unable to attend.

Tuesday, October 21: Being-There and Being-for-Itself (§§89–98), pp. 145–57.

Thursday, October 23: Quantity (§§97–106), pp. 157–69.

Tuesday, October 28: Measure (§§107–111), pp. 170–74.

The Doctrine of Essence

Thursday, October 30: Intro. and Pure Determinations of Reflection (§§112-22), pp. 175–92.

Tuesday, November 4: Existence and Thing (§§123-30), pp. 192–9. First short paper due.

Thursday, November 6: Appearance (§§131–41), pp. 199–213.

Tuesday, November 11: No class (Veterans Day)

Thursday, November 13: first part of Actuality (§§142–49), pp. 213–25.¹

Tuesday, November 18: Relationships of Substantiality, Causality, and Reciprocal Action (§§150–59), pp. 225–35.

The Doctrine of the Concept

Thursday, November 20: Intro. and Concept as Such (§§160–65), pp. 236–43.

Tuesday, November 25: Judgment (§§166–80), pp. 243–56. Second short paper due.

Thursday, November 27: No class (Thanksgiving)

Tuesday, December 2: Syllogism (§§181–93) pp. 256–71.

Thursday, December 4: Object (§§194–212), pp. 272–286.

Tuesday, December 9: Intro. to Idea, Life, and Cognition (§§213–35), pp. 286–303.

¹Note it is not exactly clear that the end of this reading marks a natural stopping point in the text (the structure of the chapter on Actuality is confusing, as we will discuss).

Thursday, December 11: Absolute Idea (§§236–44), pp. 303–7.

Tuesday, December 16: take home final exam (or final paper) due.
